Description

About Malappuram: Malappuram is a district in the northern part of Kerala, known for its rich culture, history, and strong connection to education and migration. Malappuram was formed in 1969 and has since grown into one of Kerala's most populous districts. The name comes from Malayalam words meaning "land on the hilltop," reflecting its hilly terrain. The district features a mix of hills, rivers, and forests. Major rivers like the Bharathapuzha River and Chaliyar River flow through it. It is known for its focus on education, with many schools and colleges. Malappuram is also famous for football—often called a football-loving district of Kerala—with passionate local tournaments and fans. Property Details: Land Area; 4.6cent.
