Description

About Panamaram: Panamaram is a small but important town in the Wayanad district of Kerala, known for its river, agriculture, and historical significance. It's quieter than Sulthan Bathery, but has its own charm. Situated between Mananthavady and Kalpetta. Lies along the banks of the Panamaram River. Surrounded by green fields, hills, and plantations. It's less touristy than other Wayanad towns, but peaceful and culturally rich. Home to the well-known Pazhassi Raja College (nearby area). Basic hospitals, schools, and local markets available. Property Details: Land Area: 12cent. Access: frontage mud road 100meter connected to main tarring road. Location: Moolavayal, Karimbummal, Panamaram, Mananthavady, Wayanad, Kerala.
