Description

About Meenangadi: Meenangadi is a town in Wayanad district, located on NH 766 between Kalpetta and Sulthan Bathery. It is known for coffee plantations, pepper farming, cattle and fish markets, and Kerala's early carbon-neutral village project. Kariyambadi is a locality near Meenangadi in Wayanad. The area is mostly rural with plantations, small shops, schools, and roadside businesses along the Meenangadi–Panamaram route. The climate is generally cool compared to much of Kerala, with heavy monsoon rains during June–September. Coffee, tea, pepper, and ginger cultivation are common in the area.
